MAD LOGOTYPE REVISITED

Having been a reader and observer of MAD the last 16 years, one recent alteration nearly slipped right by me. Upon a second look at the cover of MAD #161, I noticed that those fat little ladies, who used to run up and down the MAD logo, were back. And, why is one fat lady pointing to the word "YALE"?

Gerry Zmijewski
Baltimore, Md.

When the MAD-men appeared at Yale University recently, one of the questions directed at Editor Feldstein was: What ever happened to the original MAD logotype, with all the frisky satyrs cavorting in the letters? Mr. Feldstein thereupon promised to revive the original MAD cover title for one issue. Not only was he true to his word, but we were elated to see one of the restored figures pointing to the word "YALE". Talk about answering a request!

Gail & David Ross
Yale University
New Haven, Conn.

NIXON, LINCOLN AND GORE

My advice to Larry Gore concerning his back cover MAD Mini-Poster, paraphrasing Lincoln-Nixon, is to look under his bed and in his closet before going to sleep. Congratulations to the rest of the staff, too, for a constant perception portrayed in such a humorous manner.

Martha Hirsch
Southboro, Mass.

A CANNON BALL

My son Chris, pictured here with me, came up to me one day and said, "Dad, I've never totally understood your career until now, but when I saw you on the cover of MAD ... baby, you've made it!"

William Conrad
"Cannon"
Hollywood, Calif.

THE POOPSIDEDOWN ADVENTURE

"The Poopsidedown Adventure" is the best movie satire you've ever come up with. Or is it come down with ... ?

Nancy Lee Beatty
S. Houston, Texas

After finishing your satire on "The Poseidon Adventure", I turned the magazine downside-up and read it again.

Jonathan Selinsky
Las Vegas, Nev.

I keeled over with laughter!

Brian Connors
Winfield, Ill.

I love the way you change a dramatic script to one that's hilariously funny!

Ken Green
Kearny, N.J.

It was certainly down to par!

Jim Randleman Fair Oaks, Calif.

I think Mort Drucker and Dick De Bartolo went overboard on this sinking, swivelling success!

Judy Hetling
Bronx, N.Y.

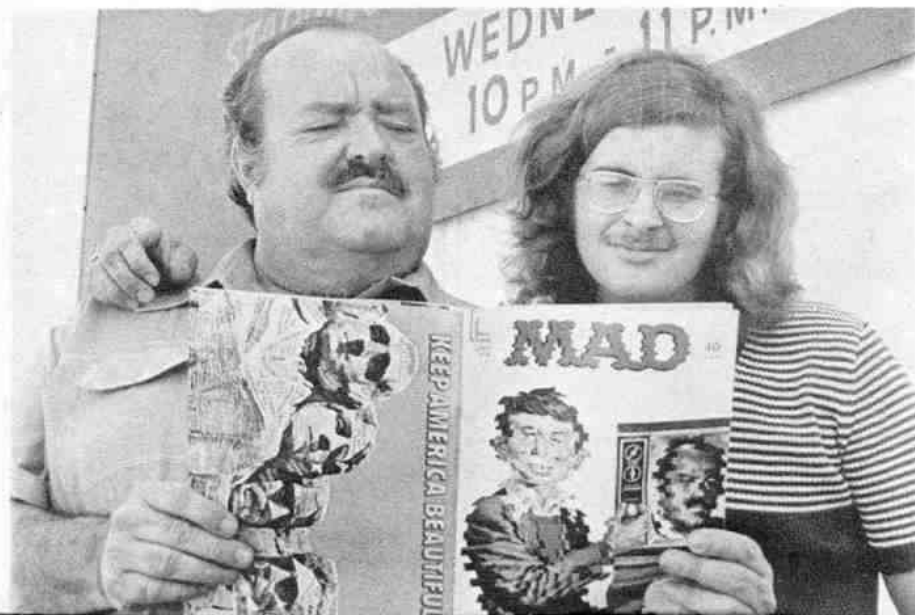

Drucker and De Bartolo really have sprung my gyroscope with their numskull navigation of "The Poopsidedown Adventure"! Congrats and consider my skiff scuttled.

Richard Kyle Long Beach, Calif.

The movie won an award for its song, "The Morning After". Why didn't you satirize it ... ?

Jim Coffin
Orange, Calif.

Hum a few bars of it in your next letter!—Ed.

WATERGATE BREAKTHROUGH

Whenever I see a movie or a TV show, I wait for MAD to do a satire on it to really understand it. So, would you PLEASE do something on Watergate so I'll understand it?

Billy Smith
Greenville, S.C.

Turn to pages 40 and 41, in this issue, for as good an explanation as you'll get anywhere.—Ed.

JAFFEE'S "CRIME FOILERS"

Al Jaffee's "Crime Foilers For The Average Citizen" is most helpful. I plan to install the "ferocious animal" in the cabinet holding my copies of MAD. A roar a day keeps little sister away.

Saul Zalesch
Baltimore, Md.

I think that if everyone used Al Jaffee's "Crime Foilers", there would be a substantial drop in the crime rate, and also a drop in population.

James T. Crum
Beaumont, Texas

A good crime foiler would be a suit covered with pictures of Alfred E. Neuman. The wearer could escape while the would-be attacker is heaving.

Jim Kanzler
Norwalk, Conn.

Are patents or manufacturing rights reserved . . . ?

J. Patrick Dawson
Morrow, Ga.

Al Jaffee should manufacture his devices. He'd make a fortune in New York City alone!

Vince Sementilli
Bayside, N.Y.

IDJIT LOVES ERNIE

Congratulations to Angelo Torres and Arnie Kogen for their adroit handling of televised schmaltz in "Idjit Loves Ernie". It was doubly enjoyable, for it not only hit television's whitewashing of ethnic humor right in the CBS eye, but also gave nice Jewish boys like me a chance to laugh at our neuroses.

Mark Siegel
Del Mar, Calif.

As an Orthodox Jew, I found your satire on "Bridget Loves Bernie" offensive, even more so than the TV series. That was pretty hard to do!

Rachel Greenbaum
Baltimore, Md.

Oy, such a funny parody! I'd give a week's bagels to shake hands with Arnie Kogen.

Jamie Goetz
Liverpool, N.Y.

THE CLO

Hi! Remember us? Wormy, Husky and Beanie, the "fun kids" from "The Summer of '42"? Maybe you don't remember how incredibly cute we were, or how incredibly adorable we were ...

But you could never forget how incredibly DULL we were! Well, it's two years later ... and we're about to graduate High School on our way to becoming incredibly dull adults!

And we're not shy, hung-up kids anymore! We're different! Even Husky, here, has been sexually liberated! In fact, he's SO sexually liberated, he tries to make out with everyone!

See what I mean!?

You come here often? You need a lift home, Baby?

You can't even do THAT right! You're supposed to blow in my ear, not my nose!

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER

Gee, Husky ... I wish you'd try to make out with smarter girls!!

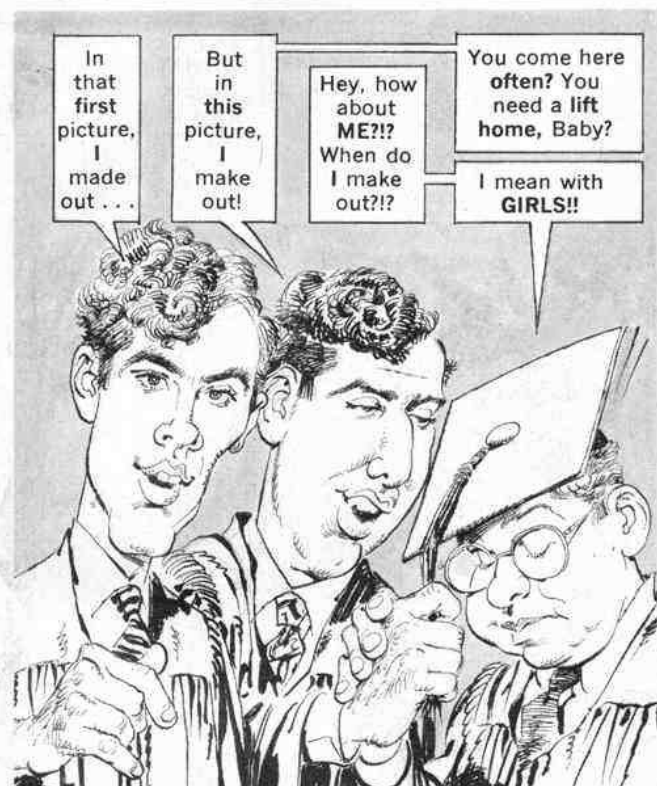

Why's that, Wormy ... ?

'Cause when you blow in THIS one's ear, the air comes right through!

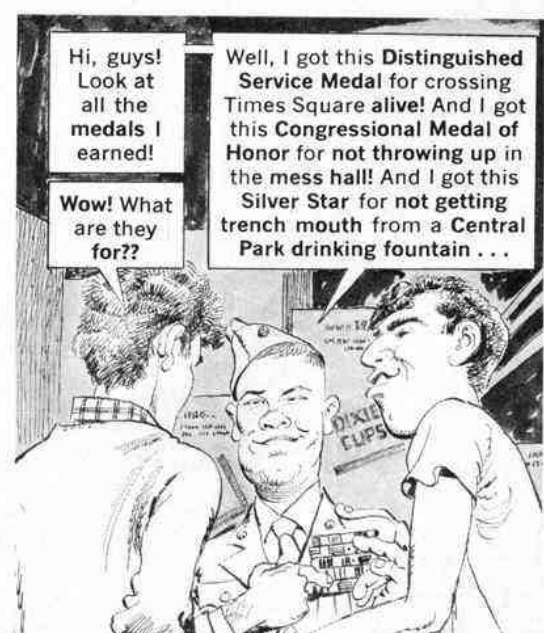

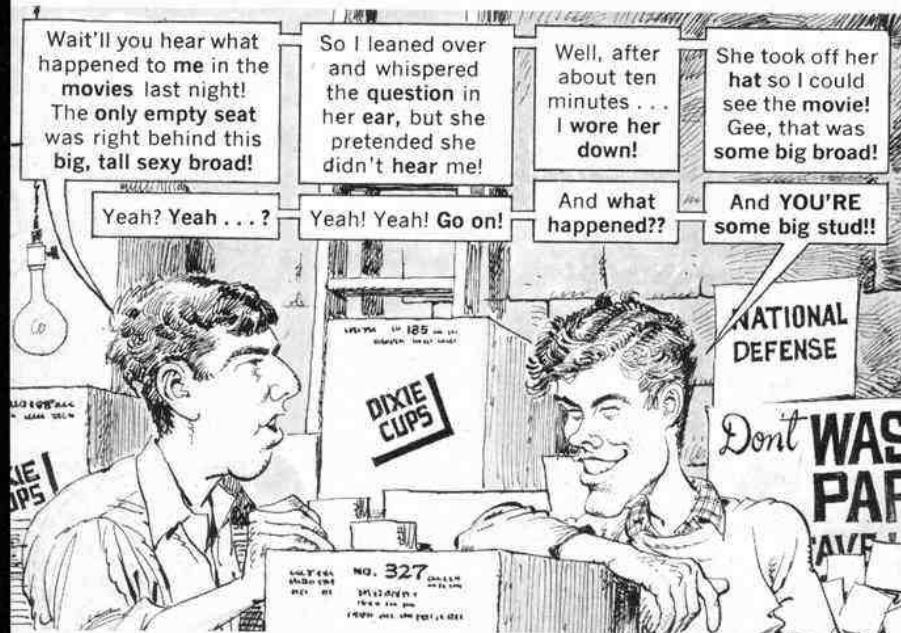

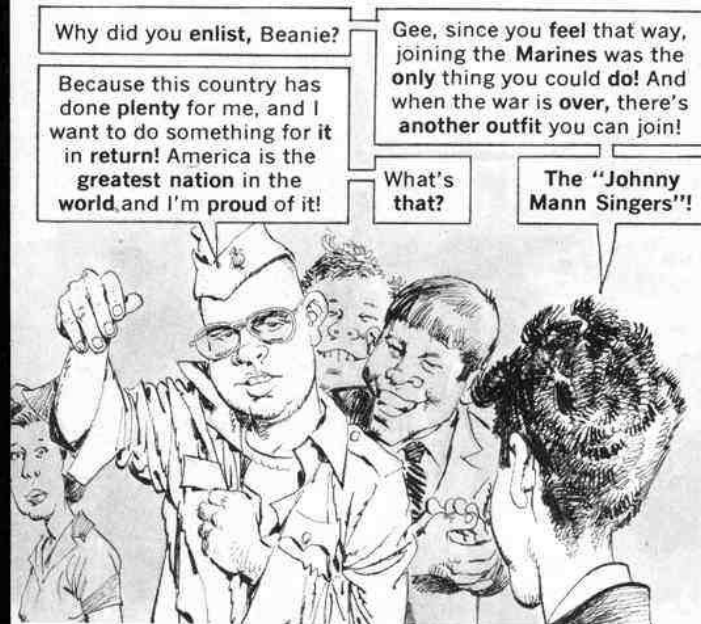

saw "The Summer of '42"! Recently, not content to leave bad enough alone, the Producers of that sickening movie decided to try again! Well, they tried, all right! Mainly our patience, with . . .

DS OF '44

WRITER: STAN HART

Hey, Beanie! Why did you come back?

To say "Goodbye"!

But we said "Goodbye" already!

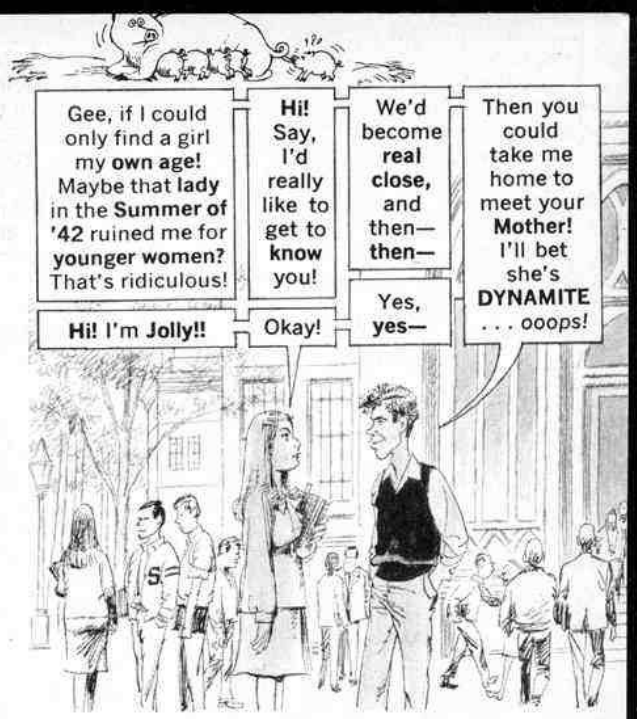

Right! But it was so touching, the Director thought we should do it again!

When I see Beanie in uniform, I feel secure!

How can you say that?

I bought lots of Japanese War Bonds!

Gee, if I could only find a girl my own age! Maybe that lady in the Summer of '42 ruined me for younger women? That's ridiculous!

Hi! Say, I'd really like to get to know you!

We'd become real close, and then—then—

Then you could take me home to meet your Mother! I'll bet she's DYNAMITE ... ooops!

Yes, yes—

Hi! I'm Jolly!!

Okay!

Wormy, you obviously have a real hang-up for older women! How did it happen?

One Summer, I lost my head, and on a foolish, passionate night, I went crazy with desire! I'm afraid I got this older woman in trouble!

You mean you made her ... ?

Yeah, black and blue from a hickey! Oh, I'm such an animal!!

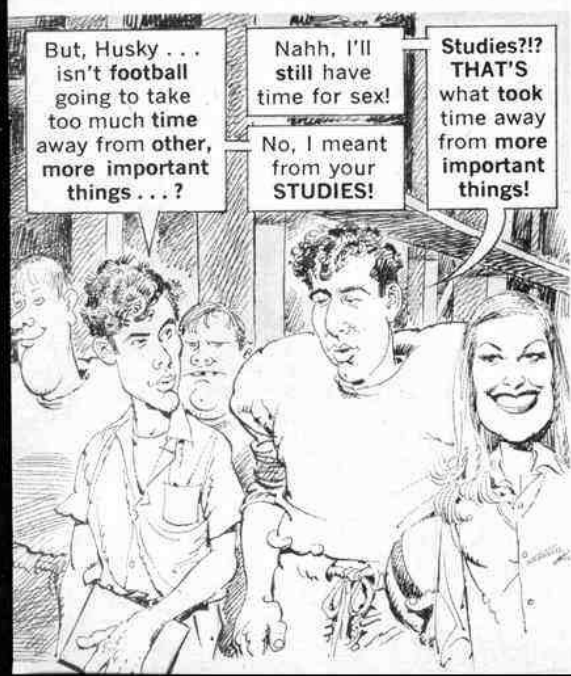

I can cure you! Just do as I say! First, blank your mind and cut yourself off from reality! Now, abandon yourself to great flights of wild sexual fantasies!

Yes ... yes ...

Good! Now tell me what you're thinking about!

Eleanor Roosevelt!

This isn't going to be EASY!!

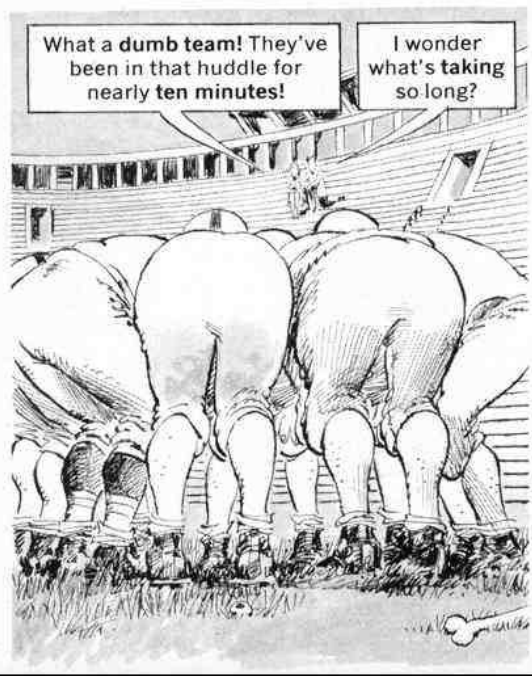

But, Husky ... isn't football going to take too much time away from other, more important things ... ?

Nahh, I'll still have time for sex!

No, I meant from your STUDIES!

Studies?!? THAT'S what took time away from more important things!

What a dumb team! They've been in that huddle for nearly ten minutes!

I wonder what's taking so long?

Her zipper got jammed!

I just can't resist a man in uniform!

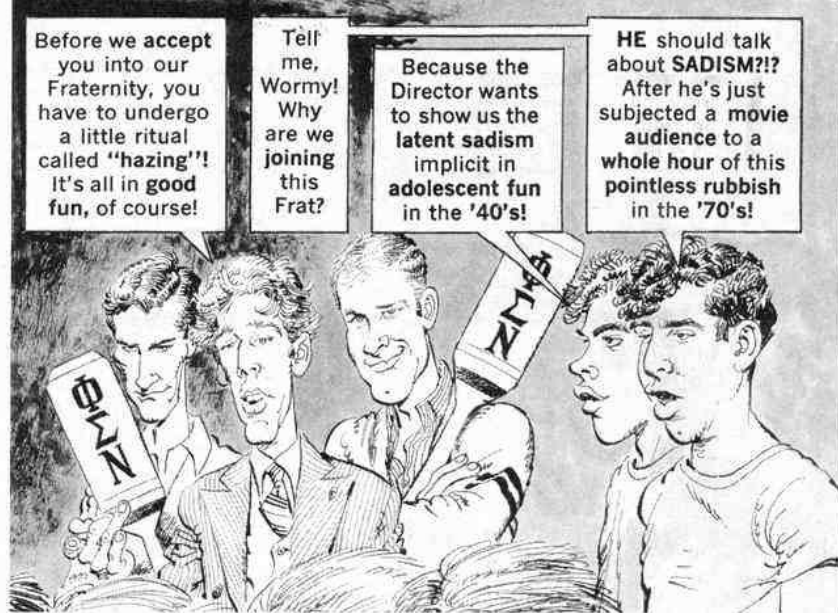

Please, Wormy! Don't!
Not all the way . . . !

Why not?!? I'll bet you've gone all the way with lots of guys!

Stop exaggerating!
You can't call 40 or 50 guys "lots"!

Well, why can't I make out with you?

Because I don't want you to lose respect for me!

Before we accept you into our Fraternity, you have to undergo a little ritual called "hazing"!
It's all in good fun, of course!

Tell
me, Wormy!
Why are we joining this Frat?

Because the Director wants to show us the latent sadism implicit in adolescent fun
in the '40's!

HE should talk about SADISM?!?
After he's just subjected a movie audience to a whole hour of this pointless rubbish
in the '70's!

Hey, I got a letter from Beanie today!

Isn't he dead yet?

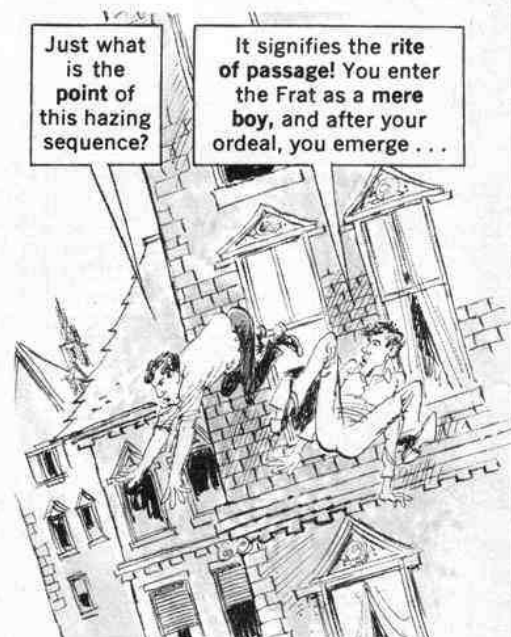

No such luck!

Beanie wrote that he wiped out a machine gun nest and took seventy soldiers prisoner!

Gee, he deserves a medal for that!

Not really!
They were American soldiers!

Just what is the point of this hazing sequence?

It signifies the rite of passage! You enter the Frat as a mere boy, and after your ordeal, you emerge . . .

. . . a hopeless cripple! Did you get hurt, Husky?

No, luckily I landed on my head!

I want to give you this, Jolly! It's my Fraternity Pin!
It . . . it means that we're engaged!

Gee, Wormy! I'm—I'm touched! I really am!

Now, don't you have something to give me?

Yes . . . but let's go somewhere in my car! I—I can't give it to you here . . . out in public!

What is it?

A case of V.D.!

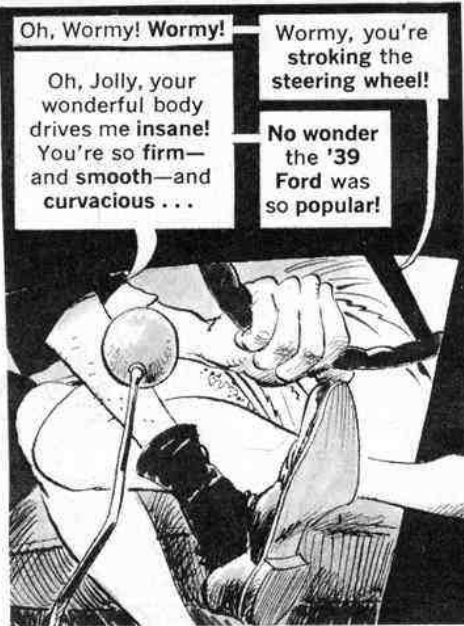

Wormy, please be gentle! This is my ...

247th time!

So far this week!!

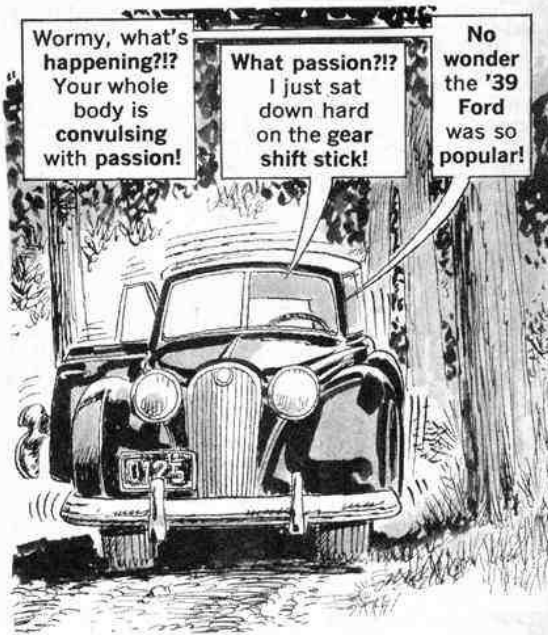

Oh, Wormy! Wormy!

Oh, Jolly, your wonderful body drives me insane! You're so firm—and smooth—and curvacious ...

Wormy, you're stroking the steering wheel!

No wonder the '39 Ford was so popular!

Wormy, what's happening?!? Your whole body is convulsing with passion!

What passion?!? I just sat down hard on the gear shift stick!

No wonder the '39 Ford was so popular!

What's going on here?!

It's the Term Project for my "Business Practices Course"! I got a Hooker in our room, and I'm making a small fortune!

But what'll happen when the Faculty Members find out about all this?

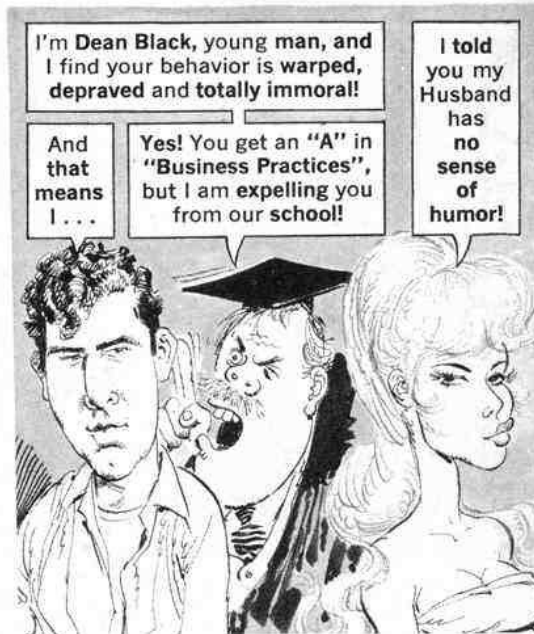

When are THEY gonna find out?!?

When it's their turn!

What number are you?

Uh ... "Pi R Square"!

I'm Dean Black, young man, and I find your behavior is warped, depraved and totally immoral!

And that means I ...

Yes! You get an "A" in "Business Practices", but I am expelling you from our school!

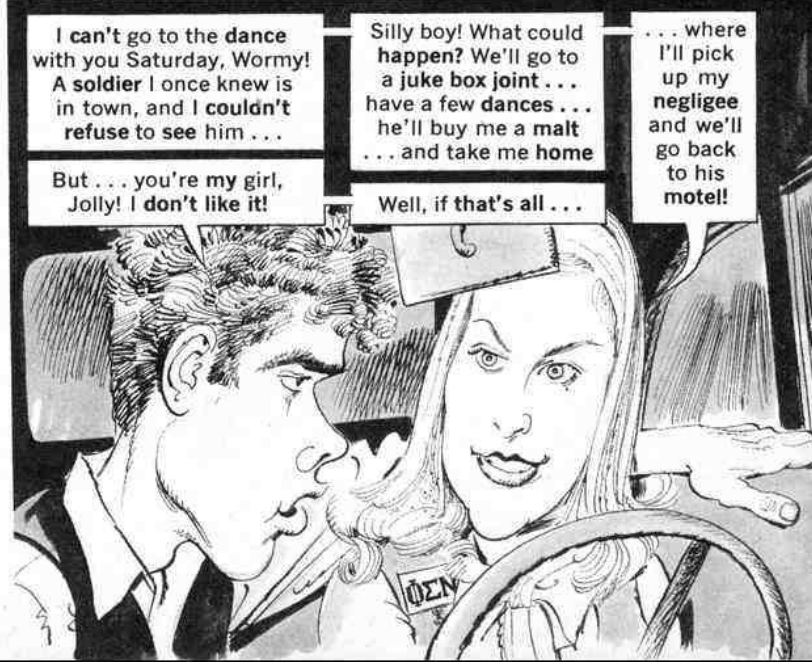

I told you my Husband has no sense of humor!

Don't feel sorry for me, Wormy! I'm looking forward to the Army!

Who's feeling sorry for you?! It's ME I feel sorry for! Can you imagine what it'll be like going through the rest of this boring picture ALONE?!

I'll send you cookies! Be brave!

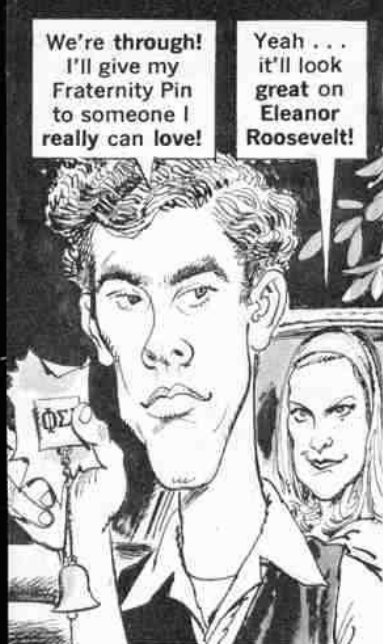

I can't go to the dance with you Saturday, Wormy! A soldier I once knew is in town, and I couldn't refuse to see him ...

But ... you're my girl, Jolly! I don't like it!

Silly boy! What could happen? We'll go to a juke box joint ... have a few dances ... he'll buy me a malt ... and take me home

Well, if that's all ...

... where I'll pick up my negligee and we'll go back to his motel!

We're through!
I'll give my Fraternity Pin to someone I really can love!

Yeah . . .
it'll look great on Eleanor Roosevelt!

My Father just died!
Why?
Tell me—
WHY?

Because sooner or later . . .
SOMETHING dramatic had to happen in this picture!

How about showing a little sympathy?

How can anyone have sympathy for a man that nobody's ever seen for two whole pictures?!!

Gee, Husky! How'd you make it?

I got a special pass under Section 465: "Permission to visit a friend whose Father, neither we nor anybody else has ever seen, died!" Hey—Wormy! How much longer you gonna mope around, grieving?

Uh—give me five minutes more! Out of respect, I'd like to make it a full half hour!

I'd like to pay my respects to your Mother!

I forgot! We never met HER, either!

That won't be TOO hard!

'Cause
nothing HAS happened since
movie began!!

I've got to pick up the pieces of my life and go back to College, just as if nothing's happened!

Why
not?

Which one is she?!!

Hello? College Town Cab Company?
Can I get a cab to pick me up at the station on this depressing, miserable, lonely rainy night?

Wormy!
Oh . . .
WORMY!

Never mind! I just discovered that my girl is waiting for me in her car . . .

Hi,
Jolly!
How have you been?

I've CHANGED, Wormy! I've decided to stop being a Silly! I want to DO things for people! I want to make sure that the terrible things that happened will never happen again!!

How are you going to do that?

By making sure that there will NEVER be another sequel to these ridiculous nostalgia movies
. . . like "The Class of '48", or whatever!

Help me,
somebody!
HELP!!

ARTIST & WRITER: SERGIO ARAGONES

In an age of gaps (generation, credibility, etc.), perhaps the one least likely to be bridged is that between labor and management. What with spiraling prices, bankruptcies, recessions and the like, it seems nearly impossible that settlements will be reached before the damage is done. Now that we've cheered you up a bit, MAD presents a preview of the magazine bound to result from this lunacy:

EDITORIAL: The Right to Wear Lapel Buttons

The Labor Movement is facing its sternest challenge since the epic fight for the coffee break! The management of certain companies are refusing to let their employees wear an American flag in their lapels, claiming this violates the contracts which state that no lapel buttons shall be worn.

We're not against that rule! In face, we heartily endorse it! Peace symbols, Black Power, ecology, and all of them other Commie buttons are a disgrace! But that stupid rule should not apply to the flag or other patriotic pro-Nixon buttons! After all, it is our flag, and he is the President! Right?

So we say fix the rules that need fixing, or we'll exercise our God-given right and strike! We're calling on all you loyal, God-fearing, dues-paying members to wear that Grand Old Flag wherever and whenever you choose! And we got ways of dealing with traitors that don't like it!

A Behind-The-Scenes Report of LOCAL Chatter by Fulton Featherbed

Congrats are in order for Morty "Payoff" Fenster, head of Seamstress Local 198 and his negotiation team. After striking for only 6 months, they finally settled for 3 cents an hour over the company's original offer. Morty pointed out to the cheering throng that while it might appear that the 6 months out of work will not be balanced out by the raise, everyone will be paying less income tax this year, due to less income. It's as thimble as ABC!

History was written at the recent meeting of Riggers Local 677—they consumed 12 kegs of beer, breaking their own all-time record of 10½ in 1969. A vote to increase their union dues was introduced and passed by a vote of 3 to nothing. It seems that only 3 members were able to stand up and be counted!

The Stanley Shtupermans are expecting another "little picket," their tenth. "It happens every time we go out on strike. I'm not used to being home all day during the week," says Stanley with a rascally twinkle in his eye.

The Buttonhole Makers International announced the opening of their new Catskill Mountain vacation lodge for union members, officials, and their families. The handsome luxury site was paid for by the Union Welfare Fund. "We go there in shifts," says union head Joey Sachs. "Me and some of my helpers will use the place May through September, and the rank and file can use it the rest of the year. I know we only get it for 5 months and they've got it for 7, but there's more of them, so what the hell. It's only fair."

Lovelies Leilani Kuzano and Lynn Doherty (at left) of the Ladies Garment Worker's Bowling League pose in their new team uniforms made in Hong Kong, saving each member five dollars per outfit over what they would have had to pay for locally-produced outfits. Now that their wardrobes have been delivered, gals can go on strike, protesting cheap imports competition. They should strike so good for their bowling team!

CHOCOLATE CHIP OFF THE OLD BLOCK DEPT.: Arnold Grepps, Jr., 6-year old son of Union Chief Arnold "Shmeer" Grepps, recently led his kindergarten class in a "more play, less alphabets" strike. A few cookies under the table settled the controversy.

UNION MAN OF THE MONTH

Each month, "Picket & Strike" selects a man who most typifies the spirit of Organized Labor today. This month we are proud to salute: Elwood "Sparky" Butts. Sparky is the head executioner at Sing Sing prison and is a member of BLEECH (Brotherhood of Licensed Executioners of Condemned Criminals & Hoods). And despite the fact that capital punishment has long since been abolished in his state, Sparky, in the great, time-honored union tradition, is fulfilling the terms of his life-long contract and is on the job every day.

Sparky Butts saying goodbye to the missus before leaving for work. She always sends him off chuckling, as she has every day for the last 27 years, by quipping, "Elwood, don't sit down on the job!"

Sparky checks out his equipment to make sure it's in good working order. When asked to comment on the charge that today's workers take no pride in their work, Sparky stood on his own record, proudly stating "None of my customers ever complained!"

Sparky proudly displays scrapbook of photos and clippings of famous personalities who sat down for him. When asked if he feels capital punishment should be resumed, Sparky replied, "Yessir— they always hold executions at midnight, and I stand to get double time and a half after nine P. M.!"

Sparky helps to pass the time by playing checkers with brother executioner Luther "The Hangman" La Farge. La Farge handled all executions at Sing Sing before the electric chair replaced his gallows, but, thanks to his strong union contract, La Farge still ties knot, puts on his hood, and gets paid overtime for working late.

Sparky and La Farge exercise their rights as free Americans by staging a wildcat strike. It seems that the Assistant Warden pulled the big switch (to fix himself some coffee), a direct violation of the union contract forbidding non-union workers to touch operative mechanisms. Naturally, their picket line was honored by organized labor, forcing the jail to close down.

"I'd like to tell you a little story that illustrates why professional men would be stupid not to join unions. There were two brothers, see? One went to college and became a nuclear scientist, the other dropped out of high school and got a job driving a truck. Today, thanks to a good union contract, the truck driver brother has two cars, a boat, a summer house, and 15 years of seniority. The nuclear scientist is debt-ridden. Despite low pay and the high cost of life insurance, hospital coverage, and other benefits that his brother gets free, "Mr. Brain" also has to shell out a fortune for a headshrinker because he's so insecure about losing his job.

Let's face it—there's a big surplus of Ph.D.'s on the labor market today! What happens when some hotshot kid out of M.I.T. zeroes in on a scientist's job? He can get it, that's what happens! There's no union protecting our scientist friends! Not to mention overtime! A scientist can work day and night on a project that might save the world from pollution or starvation—and not get one red cent of overtime pay! But the man who comes in to sweep up the laboratory—he's a Union Member and gets time and a half after 5 PM, double time Saturdays, Sundays and holidays!

A Union for scientists can, of course, balance out

QUESTION: Why did you join a union? WHERE: Various union shops

Mickey Bitsko

Before we had a union here, there was all kinds of unfair labor practices going on, like the more work you turned out, the more you got paid! Now, with the union, it doesn't matter how much work you do, we all get paid the same! Isn't that the American way?

Sid Ascher

Who... me? Well, being in a union has made a big difference in my life. My old lady says, "Hey, where you going?" I say, "To a union meeting!" Great way to get outta the house. Works every time...

Art Charney

Are you kidding? Don't you recognize me? I'm the guy De Famation was "recruiting" in the picture you took for the "Debate Of The Month"

Chip Wessel

I don't belong to no union. They pay me 5 bucks a day to picket. Union members would never work for that little!

LABOR PAINS

When problems need solutions, ask...

Bela Cose

Dear Bela,

I'm not a Union member, but this isn't my problem. Actually, I tried to join the Union, but since I own this factory, they wouldn't let me. What is my problem is that I prefer to pay my men on Thursday for ease in book keeping and accounting, but when I do that, less than half the people show up on Friday, my busiest day. How can I remedy this situation?

Jean Costello, Owner
Jericho, N.Y.

Dear Jean,

Pay the men on Monday. This way they will be too broke on Friday to do anything but show up. But don't expect too much work getting done on Tuesday and Wednesday!

Dear Bela,

Last month we asked for your advice. We told you what the Management of the newspaper we work for presented as their final offer, and you advised us to hold out for more money, which we did. Now the paper has folded, and we're all out of work. What did we accomplish?

The Boys from "The Bugle"

Dear Boys,

Although "The Bugle" blows no more (get it?), you guys can blow your own horns! What did you accomplish? You may not have your jobs, but you still have your PRIDE! And pride can't be thought of in terms of dollars and cents!

Dear Bela,

I've been out of work for 2 months now, but I still don't want to get help from welfare or unemployment compensation. I need the money to pay for the family's bills, but I want to earn it! I've got my pride!

Lynn Wambold
Parsippany, N.J.

Dear Lynn,

What good is PRIDE when you've got mouths to feed! Pride never filled a belly! So SWALLOW that pride of yours and get down to those handout lines! Don't be a sucker!

Dear Bela,

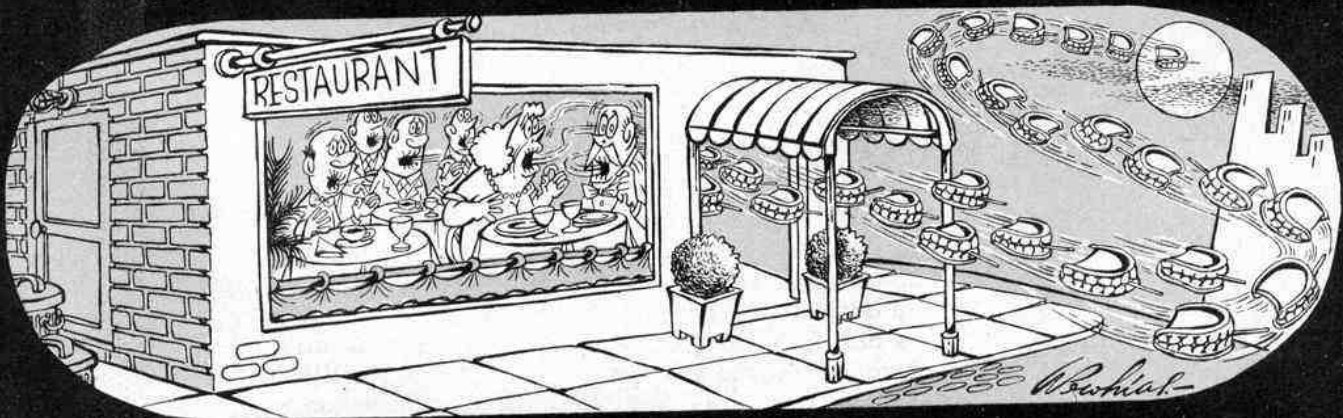

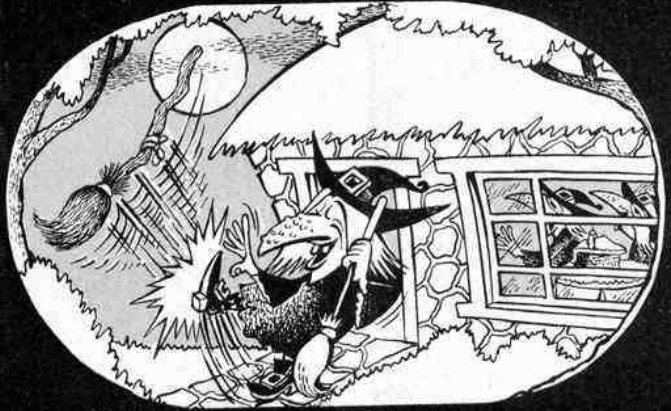

We are building a badly needed hospital in my town. It was practically completed 6 months ago, but since then all work has been stopped because of a dispute between two unions as to which one should install the washers in the rest room faucets. Isn't there some way we can settle this minor issue so we can open up the hospital for the sick?

Mayor Sam Rasnick
Masten Lake, N.Y.

Dear Mayor,

You've got some nerve, fella! NO labor dispute is a "minor issue". As for the sick, let them wait their turn! First things first! One way to settle your problem is to "open up" a little and come up with some extra funds so the hospital can have DUPLICATE faucets in the rest rooms. Then, each faction will have its own faucets to install washers in, and everyone's happy!

ONE FINE DAY IN THE LIFE OF LEONARDO DA VINCI

HIM-A-LAY-A-BOMB DEPT.

In 1937, Ronald Colman starred in Frank Capra's film masterpiece, "Lost Horizon." The movie depicted a simple, peaceful way of life in a distant land called Shangri-la. Recently, a multi-million dollar re-make of this beautiful film was released. So now, movie fans . . . you're set! If you're searching for a Utopia of peaceful gardens, restful vistas, inspirational music and eternal youth . . . go see "The Sound of Music"! Because you're not going to get much of what you're looking for in this current version of

We made it just in time! Those maniacs were about to tear us apart!

That's some uprising! I've never seen natives THAT angry!

What natives?? Those are "Old Movie" buffs—trying to stop us before we get started on this inferior re-make of the great classic!

LEAST HORIZON

Well, they can't stop us now! We're on our way! Might as well get acquainted! I'm Richard Runaway . . .

I'm his brother, George—restless, arrogant—and anxious to escape from the humiliation of the past!

WHAT humiliation?
I was the only one in "Cabaret" who didn't get an Academy Award!

Sam Cornylines! I don't want to talk about my past as an Engineer! And if this is my present, I don't want to talk about my future as an Actor!

Hardy Harhar, the Comedian! If there's one thing the starving masses in Asia need, it's a third rate Night Club Comic!

Hey, I don't remember any Comedian in the original "Lost Horizon"!

I'm Silly Huge! I'm a Reporter for an American Magazine!

Because the magazine I work for is LOOK Magazine . . . and I just found out they folded two years ago!

Yeah? Well, I don't remember Ronald Colman singing, either!

Why do you keep swallowing those pills?

The plane has crashed and we're obviously lost in the middle of nowhere! I'm not sure we can get used to it!

We've all got to just remain calm, and each do his thing!

And I'll snarl and rage for no apparent reason!

And I'll rush back into the plane, and make the first of my many wardrobe changes! Possibly into Gucci earmuffs!

Boy, these pills I'm taking are great! I could swear there were people out there . . . !

My name is Chong! I am from a nearby Lamasery!

That is Tibetan for "Insane Asylum"! Who but a bunch of maniacs would shlep through snow in the middle of the night wearing these Trick Or Treat outfits!?

I AM used to it! I'm from Indiana!

Okay, I'll take a pill!

And I'll do a silly little tap dance in the snow!

Lamasery?? What's that?

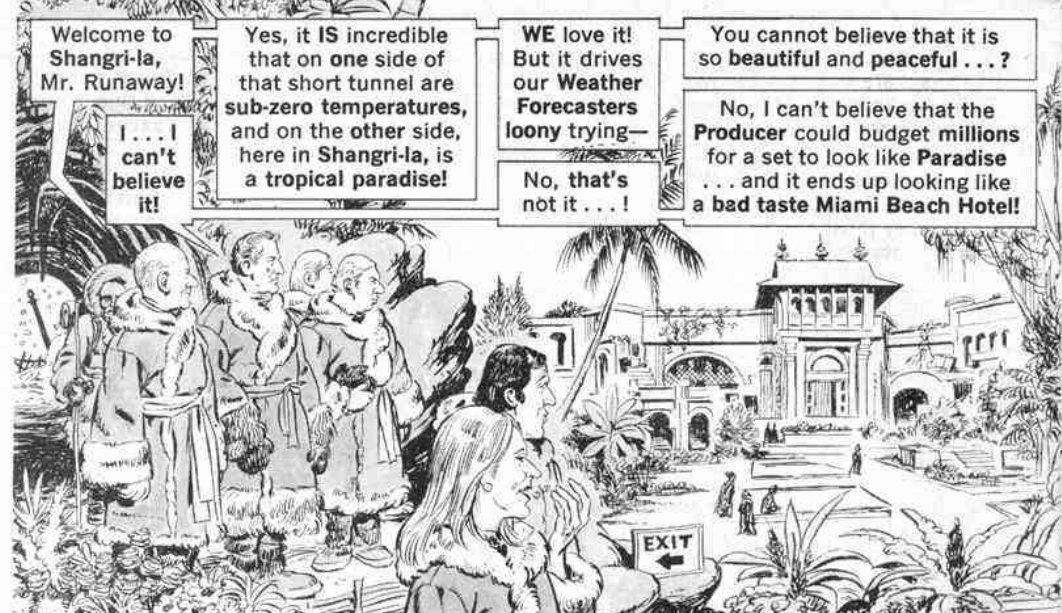

I am amazed, Chong! You speak perfect English!

Yes! I was graduated from Oxford!

Isn't it obvious? "Cliché Movie Dialogue Of The '40's"!

What did you study?

Welcome to Shangri-la, Mr. Runaway!

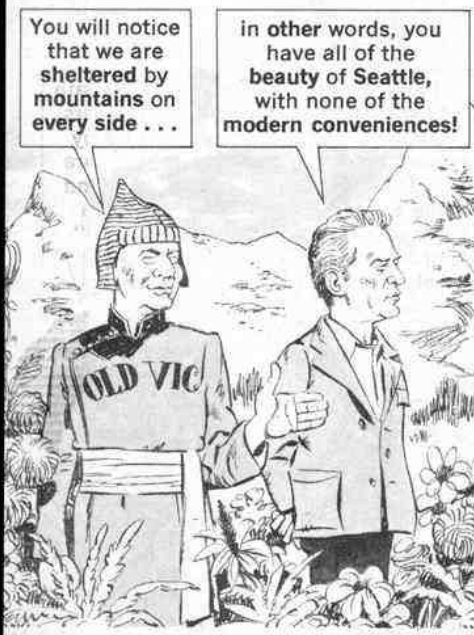

Yes, it IS incredible that on one side of that short tunnel are sub-zero temperatures, and on the other side, here in Shangri-la, is a tropical paradise!

WE love it! But it drives our Weather Forecasters loony trying—

No, that's not it ...!

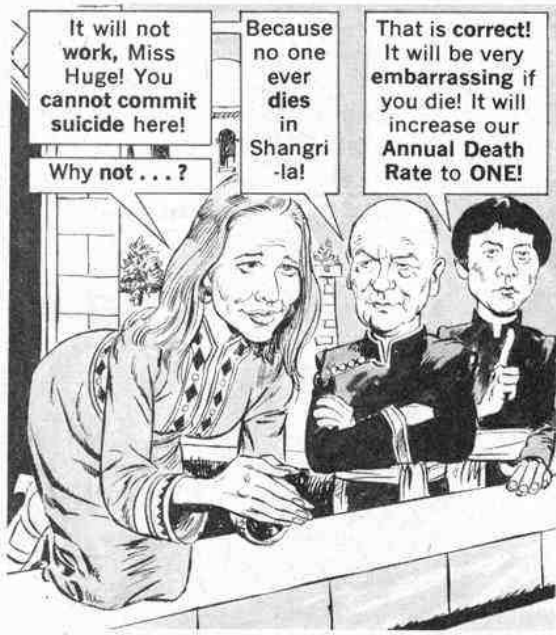

You cannot believe that it is so beautiful and peaceful ... ?

No, I can't believe that the Producer could budget millions for a set to look like Paradise ... and it ends up looking like a bad taste Miami Beach Hotel!

You will notice that we are sheltered by mountains on every side ...

in other words, you have all of the beauty of Seattle, with none of the modern conveniences!

It will not work, Miss Huge! You cannot commit suicide here!

Why not ... ?

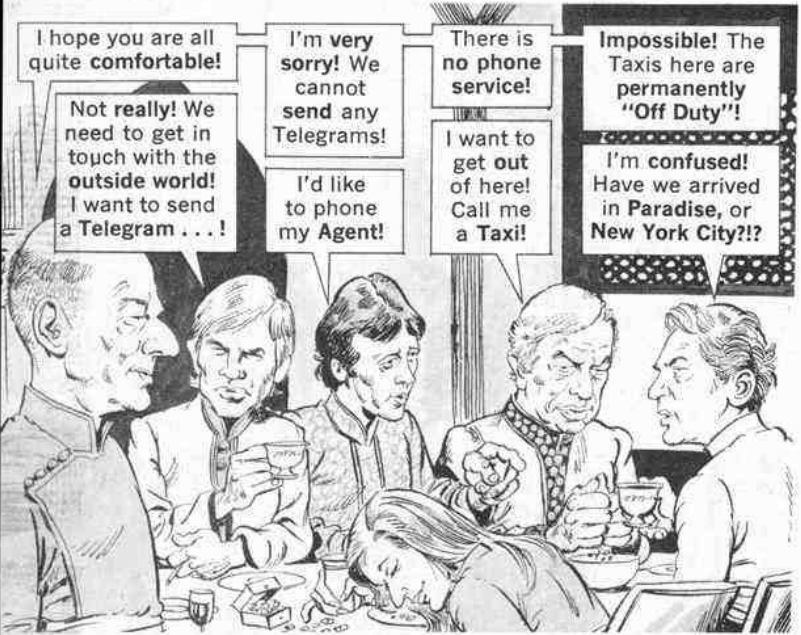

Because no one ever dies in Shangri-la!

That is correct! It will be very embarrassing if you die! It will increase our Annual Death Rate to ONE!

What do you think of these outfits

Great! I knew the Nehru Jacket would make a comeback SOMEPLACE!

I hope you are all quite comfortable!

Not really! We need to get in touch with the outside world! I want to send a Telegram ...!

I'm very sorry! We cannot send any Telegrams!

I'd like to phone my Agent!

There is no phone service!

I want to get out of here! Call me a Taxi!

Impossible! The Taxis here are permanently "Off Duty"!

I'm confused! Have we arrived in Paradise, or New York City??

Y'know, Mitsia, in the outside world, you'd be a knockout! You're so beautiful, so talented, and so young-looking! Tell me, how old are you?

I cannot tell you! Let me just say that if Tibet had Social Security, I'd be a very, very rich woman! You see, in Shangri-la, we have eternal youth! Nothing ever dies here!

Just wait till they see my act!

Yes, here sickness is unknown, and everyone is happy!

We have no need for any Doctors here!

You will soon get used to our way of life! This is a Utopia! Our people have found the secret of eternal happiness here!

Well, for one thing, they laugh at my hat a lot!

Everyone except your Doctors! They must be starving to death!

Well, you'd better find one! I think I'm catching the Asian Flu!

What's the secret?

This is our school ... and this is our School Teacher, Saccharine!

If you think that is confusing, wait until you hear her lip-sinc her songs in perfect English!

No, these are their middle-aged PARENTS! The School Children are over there ...!

I'm confused! A blonde Swedish actress, playing a School Teacher in Tibetan Lamasonry?!!

And these are the School Children ...?

*The world is a rhomboid without a circumference; And nobody knows what this simile means ... But Bacharach and David are making a fortune ...

Listen carefully! These are probably the most memorable and inspirational songs since "Muscle Beach Party!"

But no one REMEMBERS the songs from "Muscle Beach Party!"

You catch on quick, Mr. Runaway!

*Sung to the tune of ... er ... uh ... how does it go?

What's happening to me? I still feel that life isn't worth living, and I still want to jump! What's the answer, Toe-In? Maybe you, with your wisdom, can help me?

The answer is, "Death wears heavy slippers, while life is a shiny shoe that is far more valuable than a blind man who sits in a bowl of cole slaw!"

I think I'll jump!

How charming! How quaint! How over-produced!

They are singing "Loving Together" ... our biggest number! A chosen couple is honored in a lavish ceremony which is a tribute to hope ... a tribute to peace ... and mainly, a tribute to SEMI-NAKEDNESS! We like to call it, "The Festival Of The Family Movie" ...

And is this Festival a regular tradition here in Shangri-la, Chong?

No ... but we just could not think of any other way to work the song in!

This whole thing is so utterly fantastic!

What? The fact that a Paradise can exist in the High Himalayas?

No, the fact that not one person on our plane has a wife, husband or any other family ties that would make it illogical for him or her to want to remain here!

Well, we've been here for three weeks now! What's for dinner tonight...?

The same!
Not Chinese Food again!

Exactly! Have you noticed the only food we get is "to go"!

Look, I don't know about the others, but I want to leave here! I've got to get out of this place NOW!!
What's the emergency?

I'm running out of outfits! I've got, at most, 16 more ensembles left! After that I have to start repeating!!

Mr. Runaway, the High Lama wishes to see you!
The High Lama? Is he very important?

Well, let me put it this way! He could have been Pope... but he did not want to step down!
I—I'm nervous! What's he like?

Picture, if you will, an old and senile William F. Buckley, Jr.!

First, I will open with some pearls of wisdom! "A fool with no shoes is more to be pitied than a wealthy man who dresses up in a crazy Gorilla Suit!"

Look, what do you expect from an old man—BRILLIANCE?! I'm 287 years old! I'm lucky if I can just wake up in the morning!

Well, not yet, I'll BE 287 this coming June 3rd! And I'm dreading having to blow out that lousy CAKE! Last year, there were 112 candles... on MY piece alone! I'm not well, you know!

Are you kidding? Go find a Doctor in Asia!
But YOU'RE the High Lama!

When I was 70 or 80, I was the High Lama! Now, I'm the Bent-Over Lama!
Why did you send for me?

Mr. Runaway, you were brought to Shangri-la to be my eventual replacement!
Huh? But, why ME?

You were the only person around who talks with my monotone! If you keep my people BORED, they will think they're happy!

I don't understand!

287 YEARS OLD?? That's incredible!

Have you seen a Doctor?

I am tired now, my Son! But before you go, let me leave you with one more bit of wisdom!

"Come with me to the Casbah!"
But, that was your famous line from another movie!

Yes! And being in that movie was wisdom! Being in this one is idiocy!

I've just seen the High Lama! What an amazing man! He's 287 years old!
Did you stay long?

No, he had to leave to visit his Grandfather, who hasn't been well!

Look! Gold! The stream is full of it! And it's mine! MINE! I found it, and I'll never give it up! No! Not for ANYTHING!

That is greedy, Sam! Here, gold is not necessary for happiness! Here, the "Rat Race" is over, and wars and violence are unknown! I am so happy about it, I am going to sing a song...
No! Wait! Here! Take all of my gold! Only PLEASE—DON'T SING!

It's marvelous, Sam! You've constructed a modern form of irrigation! Do you realize what you've brought to Shangri-la?

Yeah . . . FLOODS! Actually, I failed Engineering back in the States, and I don't know how to stop this thing!

What a zany that Hardy is! For a comedy finish to his Song-and-Dance act, he fell into the lake!

Actually, one kid pushed me in, after my big joke!
What joke was that Hardy?

"Hi, kid! It's great working for a youngster like you! I always dreamed of doing my act before an ASIA MINOR!"
I wonder if drowning's allowed in Shangri-la?

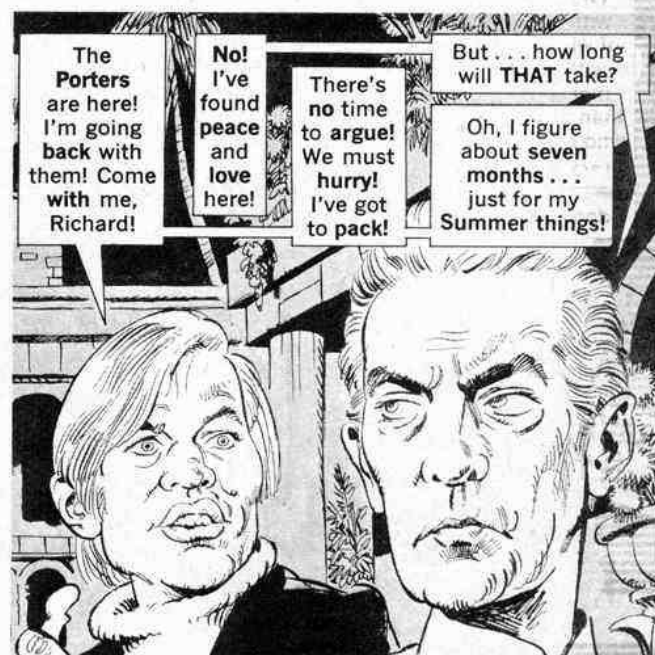

My Son, I am dying! I place in your hands the future of Shangri-la!

Before you go, I want to know ONE thing!

You want to know why I must die so YOUNG?

No, I want to know why you are turning over the High Lamaship to a perfect stranger with an idiot brother, instead of to Chong, your wise and trusted Assistant . . . who has been working closely with you for over 100 years!

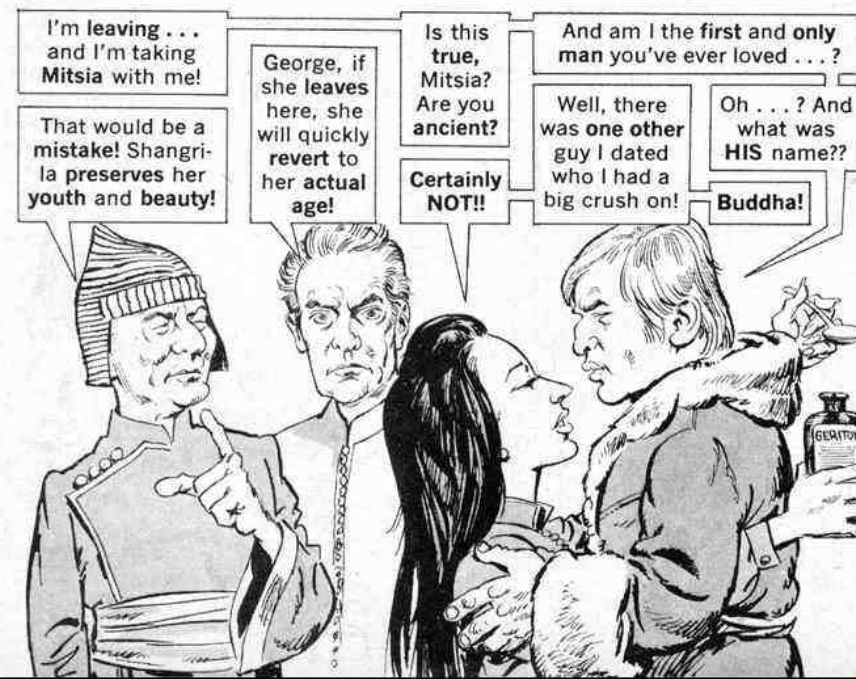

The Porters are here! I'm going back with them! Come with me, Richard!

No! I've found peace and love here!

There's no time to argue! We must hurry! I've got to pack!

But . . . how long will THAT take?

Oh, I figure about seven months . . . just for my Summer things!

I'm leaving . . . and I'm taking Mitsia with me!

That would be a mistake! Shangri-la preserves her youth and beauty!

George, if she leaves here, she will quickly revert to her actual age!

Is this true, Mitsia? Are you ancient?

Certainly NOT!!

And am I the first and only man you've ever loved . . . ?

Well, there was one other guy I dated who I had a big crush on!

Oh . . . ? And what was HIS name??

Buddha!

Look at me closely, Mr. Runaway! Is this the skin of an old woman?

No!

Are these the eyes of an old woman?

No!

Is this the body of an old woman?

Oh, no!

Is there anything OLD about me?

Just your dialogue!

Well ... you talked me into leaving Shangri
-la!

I can't wait to buy a new pair of suede goloshes in a Hong Kong
Boutique!

Look! Why is Mitsia lagging
so far behind us? She—she's walking like an old woman!

Come to think of it! She has a young FACE, but we never thought to examine her LEGS!!

Sorry we lost the Porters!
Is she heavy?

She ain't heavy! She's my brother's fiancée!

Richard!
Her face!
Look! It's
horrible!
HORRIBLE!

It's Hardy
in a WIG!!
He switched places with Mitsia as a gag! What a crazy guy!

A funny thing happened to me on my way to the Ladies Room ...

I guess George couldn't take a joke!!

I can't take much more of this, either!
I think I'll jump, too ...

... and you say that when you found him and brought him in, he actually seemed SORRY that he was still alive!?

Yes! He kept raving about wanting it to be ALL OVER already ... and ...
Good Lord! His bed!! It's EMPTY!!!

Where could he have gone???

I don't know! But he also kept raving about some kind of Paradise he knew!

There it is! I made it! After endless months, weeks and days of unbearable torture, I've found PARADISE at last! It's what I've been SEARCHING for!

Those words! Those marvelous, wonderful WORDS that mean this is the final scene ...
and the picture is OVER ...
and I'm free ... free ...

WHAT VOLATILE SYSTEM IS NOW HEAVILY FUELED AND PROMISES TO ROCKET TO UNLIMITED HEIGHTS?

HERE WE GO WITH ANOTHER RIDICULOUS MAD FOLD-IN

Most Americans had begun to take Man's achievements in space travel for granted. But recently, growing numbers of citizens have become vitally interested in another development...in a system that promises to set all-time altitude records. To find out what this is, fold in page as shown.

Can you spot the former Cancel smoker?

In this picture, everybody has a compulsive hang-up... well, almost everybody! Try finding the idiot who no longer has one.

1. Nope. This jerk is still wallowing in his compulsive hang-up. He's Gordon Focus, camera bug. He gets his kicks out of buying expensive cameras. Never takes any pictures. Just likes wearing them around his neck. 2. Sorry. He's Ernie Yellowbelt, a self-defense freak. Likes chopping bricks and boards in half. Gets mugged regularly. Nobody ever holds him up with a brick or a board. 3. No. She's Selma Wheatgerm, health food nut. She's so hung up eating nothing but health foods, she's dying of malnutrition.

4. Wrong. Vinnie Gadrool, sexist pig. Compulsive hang-up: Digs looking at girls. Looks at them in magazines, in the movies, through his binoculars. Hasn't touched one yet.

5. Right! This idiot no longer has his compulsive hang-up! He was once a heavy smoker. Now his friends, these other idiots, are lining up to buy newspapers so they can read his obituary. 6. She's Tillie Telly, a TV addict. She'll watch anything on TV, even the test pattern. She's hoping they'll mention her recently deceased friend on "Sermonette."

Cancel Cigarettes
They're not for anybody
